ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Dean of the Graduate School and Vice Provost for Graduate Studies (March 2019-present)

Associate Vice Provost for Advanced Studies and Associate Vice Chancellor for Graduate Studies (August 2017-February 2019) Office of Graduate Studies, University of Missouri, Columbia, MO

My primary role is to support excellence in graduate and postdoctoral education for the more than 6,000 graduate students and postdoctoral scholars at the University of Missouri (MU). I am a member of MU's Deans' Council and Provost's Staff. I oversee 23 professional staff who coordinate recruitment efforts; centralized graduate admissions; fellowships; hiring postdoctoral scholars; data transparency efforts; new student and teaching orientations; commencement;

GradEssentials (professional development and leadership programming); inclusion, diversity, and equity initiatives; the international teaching assistant program; advancement; grant and external fellowship support; and professional development support for graduate faculty and program staff. I am responsible for facilitating the strategic vision of the Graduate School, managing a $5.7M budget, overseeing three interdisciplinary PhD programs, advising the Graduate Professional Council (graduate and professional student government), implementing graduate faculty policies, approving curriculum (including new graduate degrees and certificates), approving graduate and doctoral faculty status, and conferring all graduate degrees.

Significant accomplishments include:

- Re-establishing the Graduate School under leadership of a Dean and Associate Dean
- Creating and hiring new positions:
 - Director of Graduate School Analytics
 - Director of Postdoctoral Education
 - Director of Recruitment, Retention, and Diversity Initiatives
 - Research and Grant Specialist
 - Assistant Director of Graduate Admissions
 - Assistant Dean for Professional Development and Leadership
- Instituting two new postdoctoral scholar programs
- Coordinating graduate strategic enrollment management processes for all schools and colleges
- Developing new systems for data management, graduate assistantship performance reviews, and graduate student accomplishments
- Partnering with the Office of the Provost to Implement comprehensive mentor training for graduate faculty and postdoctoral scholar mentors
- Improving data collection and validation of career outcomes for graduate students

Assistant Vice Provost for Graduate and Postdoctoral Affairs (October 2016-July 2017)
Office of Graduate Studies, University of Missouri, Columbia, MO

The responsibilities of this role are now managed by an Associate Dean of the Graduate School. In this position, I was responsible for serving at the primary point of contact for student and postdoctoral concerns, providing support and professional development for faculty directors of graduate studies throughout campus, approving hires of all postdoctoral scholars, coordinating professional development for graduate faculty program directors and staff, overseeing graduate student fellowships, coordinating award selection processes, and instituting and providing support for the Preparing Future Faculty for Inclusive Excellence Postdoctoral Scholar Program.

Department Chair and Director of Missouri Statewide Cooperative EdD Program
(September 2012-December 2016) Department of Educational Leadership and Policy
Analysis (ELPA), College of Education, University of Missouri, Columbia, MO

As Chair of the department in the College of Education that served the largest number of graduate students, I was responsible for the faculty, staff, and students who comprise the department's 5 central programs: educational administration (MEd and EdSp), educational leadership (EdD), higher education (MA, MEd, graduate certificate), educational policy

(graduate certificate), and educational leadership and policy analysis (PhD). Programs were delivered either 100% in person, 100% distance, or in hybrid formats. My primary responsibility was to lead the creation, revision, and assessment of programs and initiative that supported student, staff, and faculty success. Specific duties and accomplishments included:

- Supporting and evaluating 16 faculty members (12 tenure track (one jointly appointed), 4 non-tenure track, and 3 staff members)
- Managing $1.8M budget
- Supervising 3 faculty program coordinators
- Leading 5-year academic program review and updates
- Leading the Carnegie Project on the Educational Doctorate-recognized EdD program
 - Redesigned curriculum and comprehensive examination and dissertation structures
 - Oversaw coordinating board comprised of 2 faculty who collaborated to deliver the program virtually and in person at 5 universities (MU was the degree-granting university)
- Establishing mentoring program for faculty at all career stages
- Coordinating curriculum mapping project to ensure principles of inclusion, diversity, and equity were included in all departmental courses
- Participating in successful college-level accreditation processes for the State of Missouri and TEAC for educational administration programs
